Story From Ireland.

The following story was told to the correspondent of the Leeds Mercury by a sea captain, the son of an Irish landlord: "When I got home last August I found things in a fearful state. My father, more than 80 years of age, and bedridden, was crying all day long, saying that he was ruined and his children would be killed; and my sister, who was nursing him, was broken down with grief. They could not pay the doctor's bills; they had hardly money enough to find food or medicine for the poor old man and this where there had always been nearly two thousand a year coming in. Not a penny of rent had they touched for eighteen months. Now I knew that the chief tenant could pay without any difficulty, so I slipped a revolver into my pocket and walked down to the public house. I found my man there. I ordered my glass and sat down, none of them knowing me. After a while I said, 'do any of you boys know what's the state of things up at the house?' They started, but said nothing; so then I up and told them the truth. 'Faith, it's Captain Jack!' said one, who recognized me then - the very man that I was after. 'Yes, Tim, my boy, it's Captain Jack, and he's come for the rent you owe his father.' They looked as though they thought I was clean mad, and one of them laughed. I wheeled round upon him and said: 'And it's because your master and his daughter are dying of hunger that ye laugh, is it? But the others told him that he ought to be ashamed of himself, only - they couldn't pay the rent. 'Well, but boys, I said, 'that's what I've come for, and I'm going to have it. It's my father's life or your money, and you don't suppose I am going to sit still when I know you can and ought to pay. Now, Tim, I mean to have your check before I leave this room.' And I pulled my revolver out of my pocket and laid it on the table. There wasn't a man moved. I said nothing, but I took the revolver up and cocked it. Tim turned as white as a sheet. 'Well,' said he, 'I didn't know things was as bad as ye say, Captain Jack, or maybe I'd have paid before. And five minutes afterward I went home with the three hundred in my pocket, and the revolver, too, which had never been loaded.'

MOLINE, Ill., July 14, 1881.

H. H. Warner & Co., Rochester, N. Y.

GENTLEMEN: Your remedy, the Safe Kidney and Liver Cure has been used by both my wife and myself. She used it on general principles, as a system and liver regulator; I took the medicine for a long-standing liver trouble, which has been the source of much inconvenience, and which failed to yield to the doctor's remedies, or any other, until I used your Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. With little in pronouncing it to be the best medicine ever used, and in recommending it to others as a safe remedy.

Wm. M. Harris, Mayor of Moline.

Thousands of equally strong endorsements - many of them in cases where hope was abandoned - have been voluntarily given, showing the remarkable power of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, in all diseases of the kidneys, liver or urinary organs. If an one who reads this has any physical trouble remember the great danger of delay.

CHICAGO, May 30, 1881

H. H. Warner & Co., Rochester, N. Y.

My Dear Sir: For several years I have been a sufferer, and until your Safe Kidney and Liver Cure was suggested I have not known what it is to be free from pain. My family physician attributed all my suffering to a diseased condition of my kidneys, and after he had failed to give me relief, I tried your remedy, and a well man today.

THE RENO GAZETTE

For 1882 will be a better paper than it has ever been before. It now gets all the latest press dispatches, and is thus placed many hours ahead of any other paper. It has always been the policy of the proprietor to make the Gazette a first-class local paper, with full accounts of everything that occurs in Reno, or Washoe county, or the State of Nevada. The resources of the country are carefully studied and written up by able correspondents, and the Gazette has done as much as all the other papers combined in this respect.

THE WEEKLY GAZETTE

contains all the reading matter of the Daily, without its advertisements. It is an eight-page paper, with good plain letters and clean white paper. It has increased in an extraordinary manner in the last six months, and is now growing rapidly. Its interesting matter, crisp editorials and late news make its popularity. By availing themselves of our club rates, the WEEKLY GAZETTE costs only half a dollar a year. It is given with the Bulletin, Chronicle, Examiner or Record-Union, which cost alone two dollars and fifty cents, for three dollars; with Harper's publications and the Argonaut for four dollars and fifty cents a year, and with other papers in proportion. Send for sample copies.

ANOTHER IMPOSITION.

The directory just issued by McKenney, of Sacramento, is another case of imposition on the long suffering people of Nevada and California. About ninety pages are sufficient to contain the names of all the persons the compilers could find in Nevada, and two and a half suffice for Reno. People who advertised or subscribed have their names printed in full-face caps, while all the rest are set in bourgeois. Many towns of considerable importance are omitted entirely; such as Boca, Rye Patch, Belleville, Verdi, etc.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Cincinnati Commercial says that ex-President Hayes subscribed $250 for the Garfield monument, and offered to make the sum $500, if others in his county would raise an equal sum. It also says that he made no plea of impoverishment, but stated the fact that of his salary as President—$200,000—he had saved $80,000, and that he told Garfield $20,000 a year, by close management, might be saved.

It is hard for people to understand how a paper like the WEEKLY GAZETTE can be turned out at so low a price in a town like Reno. The weekly issued to-day has 34 columns of reading matter, with something about almost every matter of interest the whole world over. The weekly for 1882 will be all that industry and its support can make it.

The charters of 400 national banks will soon expire, and there will be a strong effort made this winter in Congress to prevent their renewal. This will show what strength the anti-National Bank movement has.

Arguments Against Assassination—Davidge Consumes the Day in His Speech for the Prosecution.

WASHINGTON, January 12.

As soon as the court was called to order Davidge took his position in front of the jury and opened his argument with a disclaimer of any intention to make a set speech, but expressed a simple desire to render the jury what aid he could in their present and solemn duty. The time had now come in this trial when the jury were to become factors. Whatever disorder or levity might have characterized the trial there was but one sentiment in respect to the conduct of the jury. All commended their dignified deportment and close and patient attention to the evidence, and he could not doubt that as they had received commendation of all past they would continue to deserve it in future by their decision of the question before them.

As Davidge traced the process of reasoning by which the prisoner gradually reached the conviction that but one life interposed between himself and possibly great benefit, Guiteau became restless.

"Not often," said Davidge, "in the record of heinous crime has such plain and pointed evidence been given as in this case. The suggestion came to the witness in the night, as he was laying in his bed."

"It came to me when the Lord got ready to have it," snarled the prisoner. Davidge continued—"This thought, or suggestion, came to him on the 18th of May. Still thinking that he might obtain the office he sought he kept his hands clean. He made another effort on the 28th of May to induce the President—"

Guiteau called out from the dock: "I would not have taken a foreign mission after the first of June if it had been offered to me."

Davidge (apparently not heeding him)—"On the 28th of May—" Guiteau—"I'm talking about the first of June."

Davidge (pausing a moment)—"Just listen to him."

Guiteau (sneeringly)—"They will listen to you, but your talk is so weak it is hardly worth listening to."

For several minutes Guiteau continued to interject his comments with the evident intention of annoying Davidge, but finding he could not effect this, he gradually subsided into complete silence.

"In the beginning," said Davidge, "it was thought to show that the prisoner was off his balance. Now the Court tells you to look for that degree of insanity which disables a man from knowing that what he was doing was wrong. This is the test you are to apply upon the question of inspiration. I think I will be able to show to your satisfaction how little there is in this claim. The only question was that of insanity." He then argued that the prisoner had that degree of intelligence, legal knowledge, and moral sense which renders him responsible for his acts. In a telling passion he showed that the prisoner himself had wit to see the fatal weakness of Scott's line of defense, and repudiated it, arguing in his own behalf that he was no imbecile, but a sane man, whose intellect and will had been dominated during a specified period of time, rendering him irresponsible for this particular crime.

He then reviewed the circumstances of the crime. His analysis of Guiteau's character was graphic and effective. If, he exclaimed, I were to sum up the moral and intellectual qualities of this man, I should say that he had the daring of the vulture combined with the heart of the wolf. In speaking of Guiteau's plan, he remarked upon his greater fear of the mob than of the law, and exclaimed, "We must say, to our shame, that this estimate had foundation. It rested," he added, "with the jury to show the world whether Guiteau's opinion was well founded."

Upon the reassembling of court Davidge considered in order each member of the Guiteau family whose mental condition had been considered, but unanswerable expert testimony, he said, showed how much effect this collateral insanity could have had on the mental condition of the prisoner. It is hollow mockery, Davidge said, to discuss this.

Guiteau at once shouted: "I have always been a Christian man, and for six years have been strictly virtuous. Don't forget that."

Davidge continued—There's not a single fact or single jot or tittle to show that the prisoner was not perfectly responsible for his act on the 23d of July. The jury will find the defense has carefully picked out and held up to view everything in the entire career of this man which may be considered odd or peculiar, and it is for you to consider how much value can be attached to this evidence when you come to consider whether this man did not know on the 23d of July that it was wrong for him to kill the Chief Magistrate of this Union. Davidge then took up the Oneida Community and spoke of Guiteau wallowing there for six years.

Guiteau shouted, "And I say it is false. I didn't wallow. I'm just as pure as you are Davidge, and a good deal purer. I went there to save my soul from lust. Put that down Davidge, and don't forget it."

Coming Home.

WASHINGTON, January 12.

The Secretary of State has just received the following telegram from our Charge d'Affairs at St. Petersburg respecting the fate of the Jeannette and her crew: Danenhower and five of the crew of the whale-boat arrived at Seakutzk December 17th and were comfortably lodged and all wants supplied. Melville and six men are expected soon. DeLong and crew of the first cutter have not been found. November 16, the last date, Boulogne reported the Jeannette caught in a pack, October 1, 1879, drifted with winds and currents till June last, then abandoned.

Nothing in Them.

WASHINGTON, January 12.

Secretary Sherman yesterday before the Contingent Committee denied any knowledge of irregularities in the Treasury. He had too many weighty matters to look after details. He had paid for all work on his place by Treasury employees. Pilking might have mixed accounts, but he kept a regular account of his own work. A member of the committee says the developments are of a very small grade. Sherman only employed Treasury men because he could get them cheaper.

Orthodoxy vs. Polygamy.

WASHINGTON, January 12.

There is a strong pressure from the churches in behalf of Campbell, which the committee do not very well know how to resist. They do not like to give the seat to Campbell in the face of a large majority of votes cast for Campbell, and they will probably conclude to hold the election over again as the easiest way to dispose of the case.

A Too Too Dinner.

NEW YORK, January 12.

Sam Ward gave a dinner to Oscar Wilde, last night, at his apartments in Clinton Palace, and as far as decorations of the table were concerned it might be pronounced quite a success. Among the distinguished guests were Sidney Webster, Hon. William M. Evarts, William Herbert, W. R. Travers, Stephen Massett and William Stuart.

Small-Pox Everywhere.

NEW YORK, January 12.

The purser of the steamship Andes reports small-pox raging in Hayti, and the late attempt at revolution quelled. About sixty persons are imprisoned. At Mazie two prisoners were shot by order of the President, both being relatives of the aspiring President, who is in Jamaica.

Wants a Seat.

WASHINGTON, January 12.

Thomas J. Majors of Nebraska is claiming his right to a seat in the House from that State. He was elected as contingent member from Nebraska, the population having increased to figures to entitle it to two members. This is the second time he has been elected.

A Fatal Atmosphere.

OKALOOSA, Ia., January 12.

Thomas Waters and Jasper Newton, miners, were overpowered by foul air in a coal mine. Waters is dead and Newton can't recover.

Lots of Cotton.

DALLAS, Texas, January 12.

The largest single sale of cotton made in the United States, was made to-day by M. D. Cleveland; 5,725 bales. Consideration $390,000.

Make Them Live Together.

CHICAGO, January 12.

"I don't believe there are three men on the floor of this House," said Congressman Singleton, recently, "who are friendly to the Mormons. It is the unanimous sentiment that the curse of polygamy should be abated. How to do away with the evil is the question. In my opinion a sure cure would be to compel each Mormon to keep all his wives under the same roof. Inside of six months he would be converted into an enthusiastic monogamist." General Singleton, by the way, commanded the troops that drove the Mormons out of Illinois.

FOREIGN.

The Nihilists Never Tire.

ST. PETERSBURG, January 11.

On January 2d a woman employed to repair a railroad, while working close to one of the Emperor's habitual hunting resorts, saw several men taking observations and measures on a bridge. She asked what they were doing, and they replied that they were engineers. The reply not being satisfactory to her, she informed a Gendarme, who succeeded in arresting one of them. Several instruments used for taking measurements were found upon him. His arrest led to that of two other persons, one a false doctor with a false beard. An inquiry has been instigated.

Saved Him All Trouble.

DUBLIN, January 12.

The Emergency Committee to-day dispatched a messenger by the mail train from Dublin with a bag of writs, to be delivered to the police stations in West Meath, Galway, Roscommon and Mayo. While the train was traveling at a rapid speed a gang attacked the messenger in the railway carriage, seized the bag and destroyed the writs.

The Irish Row.

DUBLIN, January 12.

The dead bodies of process-servers Headdy and his nephew, who recently disappeared, have been found chained together in Lough Mask. Five arrests have been made on suspicion.

The Pope's Household.

ROME, January 12.

The Pope declined to comply with the law requiring him to fill up a census paper, but a Monsignor filled up the returns showing five hundred persons living in the vatican, one-third females.

Prussian Politics.

BERLIN, January 12.

Restriction on the freedom of the press increases daily.

On Hand Early.

HARRISBURG, January 12.

The Republican State Convention meets on May 10th.

WESTERN.

An Unavoidable Delay.

HELENA, MONTANA, Jan. 11.

Major J. W. Walker, Ex United States District-Attorney, and one of the aspirants to the Governorship of Montana, was about to leave for Washington on last Saturday's coach when the Sheriff tapped him on the shoulder and stated that it would be necessary to delay his going until he settled a little bill of $400 due the Cosmopolitan Hotel. The Major was highly indignant, but his wrath was futile. He succeeded in effecting a compromise by paying $100 and started. He hopes to secure the appointment, as he claims to be backed by Senator Mahone, who is stated to be his friend.

A Home for the Brave.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.

The Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees of the Veteran's Home Association met last evening. The amount of $30,000 has been subscribed to the fund, and the Committee resolved to call in the subscriptions. To-morrow circulars will be sent to 2,200 postmasters in California, Nevada, Oregon, Idaho, Washington Territory and Arizona informing them of the progress of the Veteran's Home movement and suggesting the propriety of making Washington's birthday the occasion for benefit balls and festivals.

Fatal Boat Ride.

ETREKA, Cal., January 12.

A boat containing James Dayton, Albert Logan and Mrs. Steve Fleming and child, left Phillips' Flat on the South Fork of Bel river, on Monday, for Eureka. In Main Bel river, above Rio Del Norte, the boat capsized and Dayton was drowned. Logan saved the woman and child.

The Explosion at Pinola.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 11.

The powder works at Pinola, Contra Costa county, were formerly situated near Golden Gate Park and were recently removed.

The grounds cover sixty acres 20 miles from Oakland. This location was selected because of its ridges, alternating with hollows, giving its topography a fluted appearance. In the valleys or hollows were erected the buildings, each class being separated by small hills, the hill acting as a dead wall.

The company commenced work in the new mills about two months ago, and the greatest precautions have been taken. As is usual in cases of powder explosions, the cause is not apparent. It occurred either in the packing or mixing house.

According to the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Cologne Gazette, the attempt to govern Russia by means of commissions has proved a failure. The plan set forth in the Emperor's manifesto last April was coldly received by the people, and the Nihilists are more busy with their underground agitation than ever. To abandon this programme and adopt a parliamentary regime is now considered impossible, for the masses of the people are still devoted to the idea of an absolutist Czar; and any such abdication by Alexander III. of his imperial power would only bring him into contempt. If what was refused in April were conceded now, the triumph of the Czar's adversaries would be complete, and yet revolution would be averted.

MISCELLANEOUS
THE SUN.
1882. NEW YORK. 1882.

THE SUN for 1882 will make its fifteenth annual revolution under the present management, shining, as always, for all, big and little, mean and gracious, contented and unhappy. It publishes and Democratic, despotic and virtuous, intelligent and obtuse. The Sun's light is for mankind and woman-kind of every sort; but its genial warmth is for the good, while it pours hot discomfort on the blustering backs of the persistently wicked.

The Sun of 1866 was a newspaper of a new kind. It discarded many of the forms, and a multitude of the superfluous words and phrases of ancient journalism. It undertook to report in a fresh, succinct, unconventional way, all the news of the world, omitting no event of human interest, and commenting upon affairs with the fearlessness of absolute independence. The success of this experiment was the success of THE SUN. It effected a permanent change in the style of American newspapers. Every important newspaper established in this country in the dozen years past has been modeled after THE SUN. Every important journal already existing has been modified and bettered by the force of THE SUN's example.

The Sun of 1882 will be the same outspoken, truth-telling and interesting newspaper. By a liberal use of the means which an abundant prosperity affords, we shall make it better than ever before.

We shall print all the news, putting it into readable shape, and measuring its importance, not by the traditional yardstick, but by its real interest to the people. Distance from Printing House Square is not the first consideration with THE SUN. Whenever anything happens worth reporting we get the particulars, whether it happens in Brooklyn or Bohemia.

In politics we have decided opinions; and are accustomed to express them in language that can be understood. We say what we think about men and events. That habit is the only secret of THE SUN's political course.

The WEEKLY SUN caters into eight pages the best matter of the seven daily issues. An Agricultural Department of unequalled merit, full market reports, and a liberal proportion of literary, scientific and domestic intelligence complete THE WEEKLY SUN, and make it the best newspaper for the farmer's household that was ever printed.

Who does not know and read and like THE SUN, each number of which is a Golconda of interesting literary lore, with the best poetry of the day, prose every line worth reading, news, humor—matter enough to fill a good-sized book, and infinitely more varied and entertaining than any book, big or little!

If our idea of what a newspaper should be pleases you, send for THE SUN.

Our terms are as follows:
For the daily Sun, a four-page sheet of twenty-eight columns, the price by mail, post-paid, is 50 cents a month, or $6 50 a year; or, including the Sunday paper, an eight-page sheet of fifty-six columns, the price is 65 cents per month, or $7 70 a year, postage paid.

The Sunday edition of THE SUN is also furnished separately at $1 30 a year, postage paid.

The price of THE WEEKLY SUN, eight pages, fifty-six columns, is $1 a year, postage paid. For clubs of ten sending $10 we will send an extra copy free.

THE CENTURY MAGAZINE,
(SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY.)
FOR THE COMING YEAR.

With the November number began the new series under the title of THE CENTURY MAGAZINE, which will be, in fact, a new, enlarged and improved Scribner's. The paper is somewhat longer and wider, admitting pictures of a larger size, and increasing the reading matter about

FOURTEEN ADDITIONAL PAGES.
The following is a summary of the leading features of the new series for the year:

A New Novel by Mrs. Burnett author of "That Lass o' Lewis" etc., entitled "Through One Administration," and a story of Washington life.

Studies of the Louisiana Creoles by Geo. W. Cable, author of "The Grandissime," a series of illustrated papers on the traditions and romance of Creole life in Louisiana.

A Novel by W. D. Howells dealing with the "chance acquaintance," etc., dealing with characteristics of American life.

Ancient and Modern Sculpture, a history of modern sculpture, by Mrs. Lucy M. Mitchell, to contain the finest series of engravings yet published of the masterpieces of sculpture. There will also be papers on "Living English Sculptors," and on the "Younger Sculptors of America," fully illustrated.

The Opera in New York, by Richard D. Webb. A popular and valuable series to be illustrated with wonderful completeness and beauty.

Architecture and Decoration in America, will be treated in a way to interest both the householder and the housewife; with many practical as well as beautiful illustrations from recent designs.

Representative Men and Women of the 19th Century
Classical sketches, accompanied by portraits, of George Eliot, Robert Browning, Rev. Frederick W. Robertson (by the late Dean Stanley), Matthew Arnold, Christina Rossetti, and Cardinal Newman, and of the younger American authors, Wm. D. Howells, Henry James, Jr., and George W. Cable.

Scenes of Thackeray's Hawthorne's and George Eliot's Novels, succeeding the illustrated series on the scenes of Dickens' novels.

The Reform of the Civil Service.
Arrangements have been made for a series of able papers on this pressing political question.

Poets and Poetry in America.
There will be studies of Longfellow, Whittier, Emerson, Lowell and others, by E. C. Steedman.

Stories, Sketches and Essays may be expected from Charles Dudley Warner, W. D. Howells, "Harry Twain," Edward Eggleston, Henry James, Jr., John Muir, Miss Gordon Cumming, "H. H." Geo. W. Cable, Joel Chandler Harris, A. C. Redwood, F. D. Millet, Noah Brooks, Frank R. Stockton, Constance F. Woolson, B. H. Boyesen, Albert Stickney, Washington Gladden, John Burroughs, Parker Godwin, Tomaso Martin, Henry King, Ernest Ingersoll, R. L. Goodkin, E. M. Washburne, and many others.

One or two papers on the advances of the The Club, and an original Life of Bewick, the engraver, by Austin Dobson, are among other features to be later announced.

The Editorial Departments throughout will be unusually complete, and the "
